The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 24-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claims 25-44, there is no clear antecedent basis for "the device in accordance with claim 24". In claim 26, "one of claim 24" is indefinite. In claim 42, there is no antecedent basis for "the synthesis process". In claim 24, it is indefinite as to whether the limitations recited in the last six lines are positively recited, since they are in a "whereby" clause and would not be a necessary result of the limitations recited before such "whereby" clause. In lines 11 and 12, respectively, it is indefinite as to what would constitute the "four-fold area" and the "circumferential length of the cross section of free flow". In claim 40, there is no antecedent basis for "the process".

Claims 24-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification does not enable one to provide a microreactor wherein the quotient of the four-fold area to the circumferential length of the cross section of free flow' of smaller than 4000 microns. Paragraph [0011] of the specification discloses that the hydraulic diameter is less than 4000 microns, but there is no enabling disclosure to provide a hydraulic diameter which is "defined as the quotient of the four-fold area to the circumferential length of the cross section of free flow in the reaction chambers".
